

Partner with COMPASS for kids... and you can change the future for a child

COMPASS for kids provides life-changing education and support for the adults who matter most to under-served children and families.

COMPASS for homeless families provides Community College-based education and support for homeless and at risk parents – resulting in jobs, GEDs and college enrollments. Long-term coaching supports ongoing progress toward self-sufficiency.

COMPASS for early childhood and school-age educators designs and provides professional development training that equips educators with specific knowledge and skills to effectively nurture children, lay critical education foundations, guide children's behaviors and forge strong partnerships with parents.
