Celebrating History and Traditions

Monday, November 9, 2009

4:00 - 6:30 PM

Each child comes to us with his or her own family and community history and traditions. We will focus on the meaningful ways in which our children can learn about and connect with history and traditions - their own, as well as ones from around the world, and how you can incorporate these into your curriculum. We will highlight a wonderful array of children's literature and share ideas for how to provide unique hands-on learning experiences that emphasize the importance of history, tradition and celebration in a person's life. You will learn how history and traditions impact children's social and emotional development, and specific strategies about how to introduce related concepts and activities to preschool children of all learning abilities.
